How do we collect information about you?

We may collect personal data about you, i.e. any information identifying you, in various ways:

- You may provide us with information (personal data) directly (by filling in a registration form, subscribing to our newsletter, or making a call to us).
- We may collect information about you automatically (when you visit our website, our social media account, or use our applications).
- In certain cases we may acquire information about you from third parties and may collect information about you from publicly available sources (e.g. through LinkedIn social networking platform, your company's website or otherwise).

We may collect information that you provide to us directly. Typically this will happen when you:

- Sign up to our website;

- enter into an arrangement with us for provision of services or another agreement;
  - install our applications;
  - subscribe to our newsletter or register to receive other communications;
  - Participate in our surveys.

We may collect information about you automatically. Typically this will happen when you:

- submit inquiries through our registration system or social media accounts;
- use our website (we collect information about you through the use of cookies and similar technologies; to learn more about the cookies we use see the information below);
- Make public posts on social media platforms that we follow.

Where permitted by applicable law, we may acquire information about you from third parties. This may include information shared by our partners, marketing agencies, your publicly available profile information (LinkedIn, Facebook, Twitter, Instagram). We may link information provided by yourself, collected from public and commercial sources to other information we obtain from you or about you.

We may also collect information about you in other contexts than discussed in this Privacy Notice. If this is the case, we will give you further notice.

What information (personal data) about you do we process?

- Although we seek to collect as limited amount of your information as possible, we collect the following information:
- information necessary to provide our services to you (provided in contracts, registration form);
- information you give us in surveys;
- information you give us in calls to us;
- information about your preferences and interests;
- information necessary to verify your age and identity;
- information about the device you use.

Information that we collect from you directly will be apparent from the circumstances and the context in which you provide it. For example:

- When we provide our services to you we process your information such as your name, surname, payment method, address, passport number and other information we may need in providing services to you, such as your phone number or e-mail address to which we will send your registration confirmation;

To what countries do we transfer your personal data?

Sometimes we may have to transfer your personal data to other countries that may offer lower levels of data protection. In such cases we do all that is within our control to ensure the security of the data we transfer. The Data Controller could transfer your personal data to countries outside the European Economic Area.

When the Data Controller transfers your personal data to countries outside the European Economic Area we ensure that any of the following safeguards is implemented:

- A contract is signed with the data recipient based on the standard contractual clauses adopted by the European Commission.
- In respect of data transmission by a group of undertakings, binding corporate rules are applied.
- The data recipient is established in a country recognised by the European Commission as applying adequate data protection standards (Israel, for example)
- Authorisation is obtained from the Data Protection Inspectorate.

How do we protect information about you?

We have put in place reasonable and appropriate physical and technical measures to safeguard the information we collect in connection with the provision of our content/services. Please note, however, that although we take reasonable steps to protect your information, no website, Internet transmission, computer system or wireless connection is completely secure.

How long will your personal data be kept?

We will retain your personal data for the period necessary to fulfil the purpose for which they were collected. After that, we will delete them, except where we are legally obligated to retain the information for tax purposes, or such data may be required in conducting a pre-trial investigation, but in any event the retention period will not extend beyond 10 years. On expiration of this period, the data will be irretrievably deleted. Normally, personal data storage periods are as follows:

Personal data	Retention period
Payment data	At least 10 years after the payment transaction
Personal data used for marketing purposes	3 years from your last visit to our website
IT system logs	Up to several months
Analytical data	Such data are normally collected automatically while you visit the website and immediately depersonalised/aggregated.

Rights that you have

The data subject whose data are processed in connection with activities carried out by the Data Controller, depending on the situation, has the following rights:

- to know (be informed) about the processing of data concerning him/her (right to know);
- to access his/her data and be informed about the methods of their processing (right of access);
- to obtain rectification of personal data or, taking into account the purposes of the processing of personal data, to have incomplete personal data completed (right to rectification);
- to obtain the erasure of data concerning him/her or the suspension of data processing activities concerning him/her (except storage) (right to erasure and 'right to be forgotten');
- to obtain from the Data Controller restriction of the processing of personal data if there is a legitimate ground (right to restriction of processing);
- to object at any time to processing of personal data concerning him or her which is based for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or for the purposes of the legitimate interests pursued by the controller or by a third party. The controller has to demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override the interests, rights and freedoms of the data subject (right to object);
- to exercise the right to data portability (right to data portability);
- to lodge a complaint with the Office of the Commissioner for Personal Data Protection (<http://www.dataprotection.gov.cy>).

We offer you easy ways to exercise these rights. You can do so by giving us a call to +357 99 94 18 82, writing to us to support@gogo2.com, or using certain links provided at the end of our promotional communications.

You may not be able to exercise these rights when in the cases provided by law it is necessary to ensure prevention, investigation and detection of crimes, violations of official or professional ethical standards, as well as the protection of the rights and freedoms of the data subject or other persons.

We will ask you to prove your identity face-to-face, through electronic signature or, where the two options are not available, remotely via Skype before we enable you to exercise your rights.

Rights that you have	Certain restrictions
